Dear Parents and Carers

Re: Saturday Science and English Revision Sessions

As we approach the GCSE examination period, Oldbury Wells School will continue to support students through a series of Saturday revision sessions.

Our aim is to provide focused and intensive revision opportunities for students on the following dates:

- Saturday, 10 October – Science and English: A Christmas Carol
- Saturday, 17 October – Science and English: Macbeth
- Saturday, 24 October – Science and English: Language Paper 1 – Reading Section

Time: 8:45am to 12:30pm

Students may wear their own appropriate clothing and will need to make their own travel arrangements to and from school.

Please complete the following form to indicate whether your child will be attending:

If there is any difficulty with transportation on a Saturday, please do let us know. We can provide work to be completed at home and explore whether there are other ways in which your child can be supported.

These sessions will be led by Mr M. Patel, Director of Learning, for Science and Ms S. Clegg, Deputy Headteacher, for English.

The sessions are an optional enrichment opportunity designed to support and complement the school curriculum. No student will miss any compulsory or statutory element of their education if they do not attend, however, we strongly encourage students to take advantage of this valuable revision opportunity.

We look forward to welcoming students to these sessions and supporting them in achieving their full potential in Science and English.

Yours faithfully

Mr M. Patel
Director of Learning – Science

Miss S. Clegg
Deputy Headteacher
